

National Severe Weather Warning Service

Chief Forecasters Assessment

A depression is expected to deepen and move towards Iceland during Friday, with the associated frontal zone expected to affect the UK throughout Friday and Saturday.

Southwesterly winds will gust 45-55 mph quite widely across the area, with the risk of more than 70 mph on coasts and hills. Whilst they will decrease for a time on Saturday, they will increase again later on Saturday, coming down from the west on Sunday.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Wind

Valid from 17:00 on Fri, 04th Dec 2015 until 06:00 on Sun, 06th Dec 2015

Southwesterly gales are expected to affect much of northern England and parts of Wales later Friday and into Saturday with the risk of storm force winds over coasts and hills.

Please be aware of difficult driving conditions with the risk of travel disruption on roads and to ferries. Winds may be strong enough to damage or bring down trees. A period of heavy rain will also affect much of northwest England and northwest Wales.
